Short Stories OF THE TOWN

Two More Honor Roll Names.

Through an error, the names of two pupils were omitted from the honor roll of eighth grade graduates. These were May Frederick and Florence Roberts, who made the required average above 90.

Fire Officer Here.

Walter McKee, assistant state fire marshal, was in Chickasha today on official business. He is an old friend of Sheriff Bailey, who met him at the train and later escorted him to the headquarters of Fire Chief Gattis.

Campfire Girls on Outing.

Misses Cecil Kirkpatrick and Vera Cooke, high school instructors, expect to leave tomorrow with a party of campfire girls for Medicine park. They will spend the week-end there, probably returning to Chickasha on Tuesday.

Make Excellent Records.

Miss Martha Grace Corryell, the valedictorian of the graduating class of 1916, has the splendid record of having been neither absent nor tardy during the past seven years. Miss Ruby Hill, an eighth grade pupil, has six years of attendance, unbroken by absence or tardiness, to her credit.

Attend Meet in K. C.

Scott Jones and son, Mays, left this morning to attend the convention of New York Life insurance writers. In a thirty days' contest among the agents in Oklahoma, with 45 entries, the seventeen exceeding their allotment most were invited to the convention. Mr. Jones and his son were both among the fortunate number, Mays being one of the youngest insurance writers in the state.

O. C. W. Girl Marries.

Miss Margaret Rentrow of Lindsay, who has been attending the O. C. W. this year, was married yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock to Mr. Albert W. Miller of St. Louis. The young couple told no one of their intentions but proceeded to the court house, where they secured the required license and were wedded by Judge R. E. Davenport. The bride stated that her parents did not know of her plans but she would wire them from Oklahoma City. Mr. and Mrs. Miller left at five o'clock for St. Louis.

NEVER LEARNED THE TRUTH

Callow Youngsters Might Have Repented of Their Condemnation if They Had but Known.

Youth and presumably Innocence were waiting at a French goods counter while the clerk wrapped up jars of pink stuff which they didn't need. Each was audacious in the matter of short skirts, and both were chewing gum.

On a stool at the same counter sat another customer, a woman just facing the agony line which separates beauty from vandal Age. And Youth and Innocence felt called on to dissect her. They handled impressions as to the woman's looks, and giggled over her desperate attempts to retain her complexion and age. Their sharp young eyes took in the nobby dress that was almost shabby, and their sharp young voices would have stabbed her to the quick except that she seemed to be walling in by some concentrated thought that cloistered her from their blows.

"I betshees bad." The gum-stuck verdict came from Innocence, whose lawful place at that minute should have been in some eighth-grade schoolroom.

"Uccorae. Anybody'n tell that. Whodjespose would lookatatois mut like her?"

Then Youth and Innocence, without explaining how they came to be so sordidly enlightened at their callow years, suddenly switched interest to their wrapped-up stuff, and—That was all there was to it.

Except that the woman, having bought and paid for her own little box of something, got up and hurried to the store entrance, where another woman stopped to congratulate her on some appointment obtained by her son:

"Isn't it splendid! Papa and I are so proud of him—I'm especially glad for papa, because he has been so depressed ever since his last attack—Ned's going to send him to Atlantic City right away—Imagine! After all these poverty-pinched days—"

"Well, you surely deserve all the good luck that's coming to you—Don't see how on earth you keep your color after all the nursing you've had to do—"

"Rouge, my dear. Papa'd be too wretched for words if he knew my complexion had gone yellow—but Ned says I shan't need it after this—"

"It isn't much of a yarn, of course, but we have Plutarch's word for it that truth is always worth considering. And this is true.—Washington Star."

What! A sensible cigarette? Yes—you can prove it!

"Corns All Gone! Let's ALL Kick!"

Every Corn Vanishes by Using Wonderful, Simple "Geta-It." Never Fails. Applied in 2 Seconds.

Isn't it wonderful what a difference just a little "Geta-It" makes—on corns and calluses? It's always right somewhere in the world, with many "Wheel! I Don't Care! I Got Rid of My Corns With 'Geta-It'!" folks humped up, with cork-screwed faces, gouging, picking, drilling out their corns, making packages of their toes with plasters, bandages, tape and contraptions—and the "holler" in their corns goes on forever! Don't you do it. Use "Geta-It." It's marvelous, simple, never fails. Apply it in 2 seconds. Nothing to stick to the stocking, hurt or irritate the toe. Pain stops. Corn comes "clean off." quick. It's one of the gems of the world. Try it—yourself—now. For corns, calluses, warts, bunions, "Geta-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by K. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

If these wonderful May days—with their thoughts of outdoor life, of vacations, of commencement festivities and lover's lanes—won't bring a man to this store for the right summer clothes, no advertisement that we can possibly write will turn the trick.

What is a Weed?

According to Webster's Standard Dictionary there are two definitions of weed: 1. Wild growth in the nature of rank grass, undergrowth, or the like. 2. Any plant growing in cultivated ground to the injury of the crop or desired vegetation, or to the disfigurement of the place; an unsightly or useless or injurious plant. The following note is added: A weed is a plant that is not wanted. There are, therefore, no species of weeds, for a plant that is a weed in one place may not be in another.
